Judd has lived in many places throughout California, but followed four generations of his family to Hollywood, where he currently resides. “My Great Grandmother was Marilyn Monroe’s dressmaker. My Grandmother was a chorus girl. My mother was a hairdresser and one of the most gorgeous women I’ve ever known. All independent women, they dressed and adorned themselves, and, in my eyes, were the first movie stars I knew.”

Working with Jingles International in San Francisco and Vidal Sassoon in Santa Monica formed the foundation for Judd’s work today. After a successful stint as an educator for Toni & Guy International, he began his career in the entertainment industry.

His professional experience includes major film, television, commercial and music video projects. Additionally, he has worked on many runway, print, educational and celebrity special events. His client’s include Kelly Osbourne, Martha Stewart, Jennifer Lopez, Sheryl Crow, Liza Minnelli, Jennifer Love Hewitt, Ricky Martin, Mike Myers, Shaquille O’Neill and Peyton Manning among many others.

Twenty years in the beauty business has taught Judd that women “simply want to look and feel beautiful.” “My goal is to make women feel feminine, sexy and secure..and that’s what I love. I want to take the tips and tricks that I’ve learned to help them look healthy, beautiful and radiant. It’s not about covering up, it’s about uncovering a women’s beauty.”
