Sasa Jalali
Wardrobe + Prop Stylist

Stylist Sasa Jalali grew up in Northern California's Bay Area. From a young age, Sasa always had a passion for fashion, acknowledging she spent more time and effort choosing her school day outfits than she did on homework and studying. This interest in fashion led Sasa to F.I.D.M. (Fashion Institute of Design and Merchandising) where she earned a degree in Merchandise Marketing.

At the young age of 21, Sasa moved to Los Angeles where she landed her first styling gig with acclaimed photographer David La Chapelle. While assisting and later keying jobs with La Chapelle, Sasa's first work experience as a stylist, brought her in contact with entertainment royalty including Elton John, Elizabeth Taylor, Justin Timberlake, Mary J. Blige, Christina Aguilera and Pink. Admittedly, Sasa says this time working on the La Chapelle team gave her a priceless foundation of experience and knowledge that allowed her to have the confidence and expertise she exhibits today.

Fast forward to 2014 where Sasa Jalali's fashion experience is almost limitless with editorial, advertising, music video, TV series, feature film, costume design, on camera style expert and the list goes on!
